

I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

There are few days left before one of the most interesting elections in the history of that conglomerate of thoughts, backgrounds, religious, and geographical and political characteristics, known as the United States of America. A few comments, and a few predictions may be in order. My crystal ball has been glowing like a neon sign. It wants to predict something. It must have been reading the papers. I suppose you saw where a well-known columnist and commentator, who makes a specialty of "predicting" coming events, predicted that the President would address the American Legion convention in Miami. The newspapers had carried it as a news item about three days earlier. My crystal ball now has more confidence.

I rise to remark that while we are plowing under, and otherwise disposing of tons of surplus Irish "taters," it's too bad we can't plow under a few commentators!

My prediction is that Mr. Dewey will win the electoral vote by a good margin, but that the popular vote will not be a landslide, as we call an overwhelming vote like 1928 or 1936. That is an easy prediction, as all professional analysts agree on it. The House will still be republican, and will gain seats. There is a general feeling that the House has done a good job, in getting expenditures back inside income, and keeping them there, and in smoking the communists out of top government spots where, at high salaries, they carry on their operations on behalf of Russia.

The Senate will be close. I've been saying that it would go 50 Republicans to 46 Democrats, but I could be wrong. It may be closer. It could be 49-47, or 48-45. It would still be "organized," as we say, by the Republican Party; that is, the president pro-tem, the committee chairmen, and the steering committee, would be Republican; and Democratic members, like Senator Byrd and others, who want to preserve the financial and spiritual integrity of the nation, would support measures leading to that end, as they have in the past.

One curious result of this election could be the vote in the rural areas. We take for granted that farm states, except in Senator Claghorn's deep South, will vote Republican, and big industrial cities, Democratic. These votes may not follow the usual pattern. In other words, this is an old-fashioned election, with the great individualism removed. We are back to normal voting, and normal predictions, and normal upsets.

There are two sure things, and

SPECIAL NOTICE TO V.F.W. AND AUXILIARY

A meeting of Veterans of Foreign Wars post and auxiliary members is being planned at Desert Hot Springs by the second district, for Sunday, November 14 at 11 a.m. All post and auxiliary members are urged to attend.

Reservations are being made and accepted at the Fox Hole in Santa Ana for the special bus which will leave the VFW home at 6:30 a.m. The fare will be $2.50 per round trip, or $5 per couple. Call Kimberley 2862 to insure a reservation for this easy means of transportation to the meeting.

An interesting day's program is being planned, and the affair will be highlighted with a barbecue dinner.

they are both generalities. The people of the United States are determined to root out subversive influences out of government, and to stop the extravagances and duplications of bureaucracy, 23 agencies, in 11 departments, interesting themselves in housing, 71 agencies, in 14 departments, working on labor relations; 93 agencies, in 17 departments, lending taxpayers' money; or 302 agencies, in 47 departments, working on national defense, things like that.

The other thing is that the next President, whoever it may be, Mr. Dewey, Mr. Truman, Mr. Thurmond, Mr. Wallace, Mr. Thomas, or Mr. Watson, will have the hardest job any President ever had, not only to have foreign problems, on which the peace of the world will depend, and domestic problems of such importance that nations in the past have fallen because of like problems, but he'll have the unenviable job of telling the truth to complacent American citizens.

He'll have to tell us that inflation and high prices and housing and all such problems must be licked at home and not in Washington. He'll have to tell us the pleasures of inflation can't be kept, and the pains removed. He'll have to say that we can't get three times the salary or wage for less production; nor can we ship our productive capacity overseas, without feeling it at home.

The President will need the support of every one of us. I'll write it down now that he'll have the support of the 22nd District of California, electors and elected.

Local Chamber Members Attend County Meeting

At a meeting of the Cypress Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening, President Stan Doerr appointed member T. J. Boyd to serve as the second member of the Cypress Recreational park, inc., board.

Present at the meeting was the newest member of the organization, Mrs. Carl Harvey, of "Jill's baby shop," who explained the idea back of her firm's "exchange" of used articles or baby furniture and other items, and who pledged her support to the local organization.

Action on the matter of the block of boxes in the post office, on which a sum of money is now due since a year's time has elapsed since the last payment was made, was again deferred, lacking a quorum of members to vote on the issue.

A letter was read from the headquarters of the associated Chambers of Orange County inviting members to the dinner meeting on Tuesday evening held at the Los Alamitos naval air base. Attending from Cypress were Mr. and Mrs. Stan Doerr, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Switzer, Mr. and Mrs. Haskell A. Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Arnold.

It was decided that the acting secretaries would send out post card notices of the next regular meeting of the organization in an effort to promote a larger attendance.

All-Time High In Auto Influx Set

Representing the greatest three-quarter year influx of cars in state history, an all-time of 781,445 out-of-state autos, carrying 2,133,099 passengers, entered California during the first nine months of this year, the Automobile Club of Southern California reported last Wednesday.

Word has been received since going to press with the calendar of events for November that the opening date for Santa Claus lane on Hollywood boulevard is November 24 instead of November 26, as listed.

Margaret Booher Wed in Yuma To Charles Lamar

News of interest to Cypress residents is that of the wedding of Miss Margaret Booher, daughter of Mrs. Barney Booher, and Charles Lamar, a United States Marine stationed at El Toro.

The ceremony took place last Friday night in the Gretna Green wedding chapel in Yuma with the Reverend D. Brooks, the officiating clergyman. The couple was accompanied to the southern city by Mrs. Booher and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weaver, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

For her wedding, Miss Booher wore a dusty rose gaudy suit with hat and gloves of turquoise and black shoes and bag. Her corsage was of gardenias.

For the present the newly married couple will make their home with Mrs. Booher who recently moved to Anaheim after a residency in Cypress for many years. The bride attended the Cypress elementary school and Anaheim sign school. She has been employed as a nurse and at St. Joseph's hospital for the past three years. Her husband's parents live in Texas.

A honeymoon was deferred until Lamar is able to obtain a furlough.

On Saturday night members gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Allen on South Walker street for a wedding supper. A three tiered wedding cake was served with custard as a dessert course.

In addition to the wedding couple, present were Mrs. Booher, Mrs. Julia Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hall and children, Larry Joe and Carol, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weaver and the Allen children Nancy, Mary Lee and Kenneth.

Two pre-nuptial courtesies were held last week for Mrs. Lamar.

Last Thursday evening, the parsonage of the Fullerton Nazarene church was the setting for a luncheon shower at which Mrs. L. I. Weaver, wife of the pastor, and Mrs. Lee Tinker of Buena Park were hostesses. Dainties and chrysanthemums in fall colors were used for floral decorations combined with harmonizing papers. Several games preceded the opening of the huge pile of gifts.

Mrs. Lawrence Hall and Mrs. Preston Allen attended from Cypress.

Earlier in the week, a surprise lingerie shower was given by the sister, Mrs. Preston Allen and daughter, Nancy, in their home on South Walker street in Cypress.

Baptist WMS

Meets At King's

An all-day meeting of the Baptist Women's missionary society was held last week in the home of Mrs. Arthur King to observe a day of prayer for state missions.

A covered dish luncheon was enjoyed at the noon-time and Mrs. A. A. Kolosky gave charge of the program. Those taking part were Mrs. F. E. Stowers, Mrs. Roy Sunson, Mrs. G. O. Randall, Mrs. G. M. Milbourn, and Mrs. L. W. Davis. Others present were Mrs. Orville Kelley, Mrs. Thad Merroun, of Anaheim; Mrs. Mary Hovis, of Long Beach, and Mrs. Overly, of Hawaiian Gardens.

Following a wonderful steak dinner, the group gathered at the Damm home where they enjoyed showing of moving pictures taken by the doctor and his wife on various occasions, including the White Gold Day parade.

Guests at the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Maas of Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Williams of Buena Park, Mrs. Duward Miller of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bessie, Dr. and Mrs. H. Damm, Mrs. Elmer McVinn, Mrs. and Mrs. Bob Hoyt and the Arnolds.

A building permit has been issued to Charles Nyberg, in Cypress, for a home at 861 La Roma street, to cost $5,000.

IT'S BEING SAID - - IN CYPRESS

That the "mama" to the triplets, Mrs. George B. Weigert, will not go entirely unnoticed, even though there was no special gift for her on the recent broadcast in which her husband participated, "Free for all," because Jill's Baby Shop is seeing to it that "mama" gets a nice gift of nylon hose in recognition of the part she played in this little drama.

That it's "heigh-ho" and we're off to the fair this weekend in Anaheim. Although the officials didn't have much time to plan so large an undertaking as a county-wide fair such as this will be, they have really done a bang-up job, and if you haven't entered an exhibit or won in the beauty contest, you will enjoy the results of other's participation.

That we hope it will be a pleasant Halloween for all of us. Are you ready with those "trick or treats" for the kiddies?

"Phil" Bischof New Owner of Market Kiwanians Hear Jerry Hathcock, Disney Animator

A rare treat was offered Buena Park Kiwanians Tuesday evening when a cartoon animator from Walt Disney's Hollywood studio brought his easel and displayed some tricks of his trade. Jerry Hathcock was presented by his brother, Kiwanian Dick Hathcock of Cypress.

Jerry has been with the Disney studio, for the past seven years and has been assigned responsibility of creating the animation of the cartoon character "Pluto the dog."

He explained the elementary process of developing the story, characterization and musical background, then drawing the action so that each one position can be photographed and screened at the rate of 1/24th second each.

The membership asked many questions concerning color process and technical problems. All were fascinated by the sketches he made with lightning rapidity as he demonstrated various phases of his subject.

Results of the election of officers were announced with the roster of 1949 leaders introduced; Frank Noe of Cypress is the new president.

Church Friends Surprise with Baby Shower

Lured to the Nazarene church Thursday evening on the pretext that the Young Women's Missionary society was going to roll bandages for a missionary box, Mrs. Edward Riddle was a very surprised young woman to find the church had gathered instead to shower her with gifts for her layette. Scene of the party was the missionary hall of the church, which was appropriately decorated in pink and blue.

A lovely corsage of pink and white roses and carnations was presented to Mrs. Riddle. Mrs. J. Larow was prize winner in the game which occupied the first part of the evening, and she, in turn, placed it with the other layette gifts. The opening of the many tissue wrapped packages was followed by the serving of refreshments of assorted home-made cakes, punch, and nuts which were placed in diaper nifty cups.

Guests at the enjoyable affair were Meses. Joe Ferguson, Otto Ferguson, Leon Ferguson, J. C. Napier, J. W. Fleetwood, Donald Dewitt, Norville Chapman, Sarah Chapman, Hal Sartwell, Jonathan Stogdill, Hollis Woodmansee, Lloyd Shirey, Hal Shirey, Toad Wolford, Henry Hart, Oscar Kelly, J. Trower, Eric Jorden, James Palmer, Gary Zwart, and Miss Etta Jean Bodkins.

Sending their gifts were Meses. Ethel Beck, A. Kuykendahl, Lloyd Wallis, Noxie Stearns and James Anderson.

STANTON MEMBERS OF COMMUNITY CHURCH IMPROVE INTERIOR

Many of the congregation of the Stanton Community church were pleasantly surprised on Sunday morning to find the comfortable seats installed in place of the hard wooden pews. Several of the church members worked diligently all week to get them in readiness. Another improvement has been added to the church auditorium—a new floor furnace. Church workers have several other improvements in mind, one of which is a carpet runner for the center aisle.

County Fair Offers Days Of Fun, Thrills, Exhibits

Orange County's "Fairies of the Fair" is Phyllis Applegate of Huntington Beach, who will reign as Queen of the Orange County Fair, to be held in Anaheim.

Phyllis won her title of Queen at the Orange County beauty contest in Anaheim Sunday. She and her eight "Ladies in Waiting" were crowned at special ceremonies at 7:30 p.m. on the opening night of the Fair, Thursday, October 28. They will also ride a special float in the Halloween grand parade Saturday night.

Agricultural products grown in the various districts of Orange county will be attractively displayed at the Orange county fair in six grange exhibits, it was announced by Robert Wardlow, master of the county.

District granges participating are: Wintersburg, Arnold Walker,

Among the many Orange County Fair exhibits of particular interest to citrus growers is the Towt frost protection wind machine which will be set up on a 400 square foot space just outside the Santa Ana high school at 7:15 p.m. Each evening session is complete in itself and all of the sessions integrate into a complete, short course. Outstanding authorities in such fields as party planning, home activities, camping, braiding, plaster craft, and family group games will conduct sessions.

The time—7:15 p.m., each Monday and Wednesday. The place—Santa Ana high school.

With banners flying and flags waving, an old-time parade will be formed Saturday to welcome Gov. Earl Warren, the Republican vice-presidential nominee, to Orange County as guest of the Anaheim Halloween Festival and the revived Orange County Fair at Anaheim.

The state's chief executive, only national nominee to visit the county this election year, will leave Laguna Beach at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, heading an automobile caravan up Coast Hwy. to MacArthur Blvd. cutoff, and into Santa Ana via Main St.

He will be accompanied from Laguna Beach, where he is to spend a quiet Friday night after a late arrival, by leaders of the Dewey-Warren Campaign Committee.

At Broadway and South Main St., Santa Ana, the caravan will be met with other leaders in civic, business and political circles. Segments of the Dewey-Warren Campaign Committee, such as the Veterans' and Democrats' committees, will join the parade at 9 a.m.

Because of the lack of time, the Governor will be unable to stop in any of the cities; he will wave his greetings as the parade slows on its through route to Anaheim, where he will make a public address at the open-air Greek theatre at Anaheim City park at 10 a.m.

He will bring official state greetings to the city's silver jubilee Halloween Festival and to the revived Orange County Fair, also at Anaheim.

Short Course For Parents Underway in Santa Ana

Do your children bring home the entire neighborhood to play in your backyard? Would you like to be the leader of a scout, church, or Y group—but don't know how? Does planning a party or picnic frighten you? Are you all thumbs when you try to make something artistic?

If so, the place you should be for the next few Monday and Wednesday nights is the Orange County Recreation Institute held at Santa Ana high school at 7:15 p.m. Each evening session is complete in itself and all of the sessions integrate into a complete, short course. Outstanding authorities in such fields as party planning, home activities, camping, braiding, plaster craft, and family group games will conduct sessions.

The time—7:15 p.m., each Monday and Wednesday. The place—Santa Ana high school.

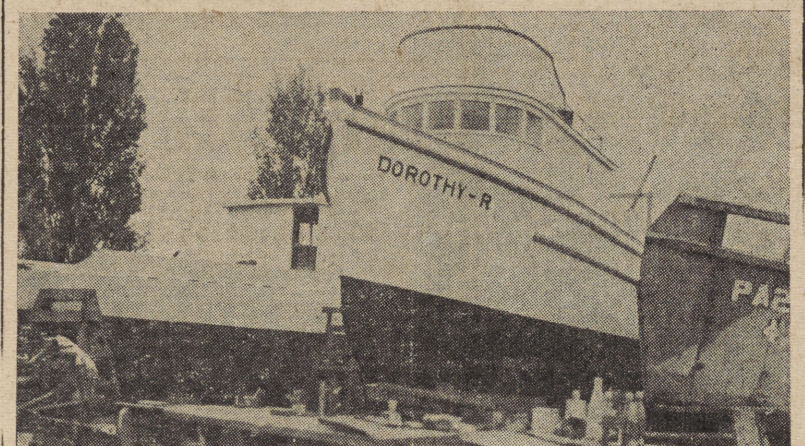

Craftsman With Unusual Occupation Works At Trade In Cypress Acres

Taken for granted over in Cypress acres is a man, small in stature, with a vocation as interesting as it is out of place on La Salle street. To the uninitiated, passing by, a sudden whiff of tangy, fresh salt air chills the air, and mentally the scene takes on the aspect of a "stern and rock-bound coast", and the odors of a New England boiled dinner being waited on the breeze seem almost real to the nostrils.

If imagination still holds that picture and atmosphere, it is time to meet the real New Englander who reigns over this bit of magic transplanted to the inland. John Farnell was born in Massachusetts, reared in Maine, to which state he moved when very young, and staying close to the coast, he became interested in boatbuilding and fishing, which trades he plied through his early years from many points along the sea. When he was old enough, he fished for six years out of Gloucester with the fishing fleet.

When he was but 15 years of age, he went aboard one of the last of the old "square riggers" to sail for Hobart, Tasmania, with cargo of farm implements and machinery ordered delivered by British firms. One year later, when only sixteen, he made the trip again. In later years in Hollywood, it was Farnell's privilege to help in the studios at Paramount and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to remodel certain of these same "square riggers" to be used in moving pictures depicting sailing before the turn of the century such as "Mutiny on the Bounty" and other well-known early films of our sea.

Although the information was not a part of the regular interview, one of the most fascinating facts of John's heritage was his assertion that his grandfather was a pirate of the high seas, the "gang" reported to have held sway on shipping close to the Antilles in the West Indies. When piracy was still forever by the great waves of the world, the Scotch grandfather became a sailor and gained entrance to this country. He became a United States citizen, and later skipped his own ships all over the world. Twice in John's early life, those in his family closest to him moved to the interior, but each time he was left behind in the care of other relatives because life in the frontier days was beset with too much danger from "wild Indians" and rugged living.

An interesting sidelight on Farnell's story is his friendship for Harry Pigeon, from Iowa, who is also interested in boats and sailing. Pigeon built his boat, the "Islander" himself, and sailed three around the world alone. The third time he sailed, he took aboard his wife and her girl friend. A hurricane struck the New Hebrides coincident with the little group's visit there, and the boat was destroyed.

The story of John's life between his early year and now is much the same as any man's struggle for existence through depressions and catastrophes, when skills must be best fitted to the needs of the world, and a man works variously at many occupations. Today, the man and his first-love are reunited. John Farnell—boatbuilder and supplies—his business cards read. The last few "jobs" have resulted in fishing boats, remodeled from navy surplus boats—originally bearing the identification, "Landmark," L. C. V. P. on the metal plate tacked firmly into the wooden hull. These navy craft were built to carry 90 passengers. When Farnell has finished his remodeling, the same craft is a three-man, 190-scoop fishing boat, equipped with its own generator for electricity, pumps and refrigeration, complete with galley and sleeping accommodations for four.

The "Dorothy R." was remodeled from a landing craft for the subject's son, Russell G. Farnell, who fishes out of Long Beach harbor, principally for albacore. The second boat pictured, in the stage of construction, was similarly remodeled for Robert Griffith, a friend of the younger Farnell's, and was subsequently christened the "Gamboller." Russell names his boats for his wife, and the original "Dorothy R." was built from his father's own specifications and designs and was not a remodeled boat. Farnell has two daughters, Mrs. Victor Koenig, of Cypress, and Mrs. Wilmar Kendrick, of San Diego, whose husband is a navy man.

But the mid-afternoon sun has cleared the mists and left behind the poignant illusions of other climes. California and a workaday world become paramount as another boat is being remodeled to some day slip down the ways and take her place upon the waters of the blue Pacific in pursuit of a peace-time occupation, under the skillful fingers of John Farnell—boatbuilder.

NATIONAL BIBLE WEEK

Today the enemies of America's sacred traditions are bending every effort to replace Freedom and Liberty and Justice under God with national socialism and policing government. It is for liberty-loving Americans to show the world in unmistakable terms that faith and trust in the "Book of Books," which will never be banned under our Constitution, will continue to be our Guide. National Bible Week is a manifestation of such a resolution.

To emphasize the importance of religion in maintaining a free government, the Laymen's National Committee, a non-sectarian, non-profit organization, sponsors National Bible Week—this year October 18-24. It uses every possible avenue to stimulate people in all walks of life to be Bible conscious, irrespective of class, creed or color.

P-T.A. Meeting
Includes Tour of School Buildings

The November meeting of the P.T.A., which date was set forward a week, will be held on Thursday evening, November fourth. Parents are especially urged to be present, since an opportunity will be given to inspect the school buildings, both old and new, in an open house from seven o'clock to eight p.m. Teachers will be in their respective rooms for the occasion, and opportunity will be given to not only view the new buildings recently completed, but also to observe changes and improvements made in the older section of the school during the summer months.

The seventh grade is host to the group and will furnish the school part of the program under the direction of Leonard Rowe, teacher, which part of the evening's meeting is to begin promptly at eight o'clock. Speaker John Hayes, assistant county superintendent of schools, will bring a message on the subject, "The school helps us build," following the theme adopted for one year.

NO BUS TO ANAHEIM
CANTEN THIS WEEK

Because the regular school bus driver, R. L. Miles, is a patient in Community hospital in Long Beach suffering from an infection in the arm which he injured recently, there will be no transportation to the Teen-age Canteen in Anaheim tonight (Friday). As soon as Driver Miles has recovered, the Friday night trips will be resumed.

However, if any parents can take the children, it will be appreciated, since this is a special Halloween costume party with prizes and refreshments.

PARENTS — SPECIAL
NOTE TODAY!

Parents are reminded that school will be out at one and thirty today (Friday) and any child who wishes to be picked up by parents may do so, in order that they may enjoy the Kiddies' Halloween parade in Anaheim which will begin at city park at 2:30, followed by a vaudeville show and circus acts to be staged at the fairgrounds at 3:30 o'clock.

SCHOOL'S PAPER
"GOES TO PRESS"

Under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Arnold, the fifth and sixth grades are this week publishing the first school paper of the year, which will be a Halloween issue.

LOCALS

Mrs. George Underwood has returned home from the hospital and Sergeant Underwood returned to duty Monday morning at Camp Pendleton.

Representing the Cypress post V.F.W. auxiliary at a meeting of the Seal Beach auxiliary on Tuesday evening, President Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Ann Lucas and Mrs. Margaret Dye attended to thank the sister organization for presenting the colors to the local post at its recent institution.

A daughter, Sharen Lee, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fagundes, Jr., of 5542 Saint Ann avenue on Saturday, October 23 and weighed seven pounds and fourteen ounces.

Bill Menker has returned to his home in Oakland after completing his thesis for a master's degree in chemistry in the home of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Hubbard, at 8121 Miller road.

Dr. Sidney J. Adler, who has just completed a long term residency at the Milwaukee children's hospital where he was chief resident, is now associated with the Johnston-Gendel clinic in Anaheim, according to word received from Dr. Samuel Gendel. His practice is limited to infants and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Hubbard celebrated the latter's birthday at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Robinson in San Diego, last weekend. The Hubbards returned home on Monday.

Recent dinner guests in the Darrell Cardin home were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harvey and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Grubbs of Los Angeles, the occasion being a surprise birthday celebration in honor of the birthday anniversary of Cardin.

Enjoying their first trip to California from Courtwright, Ontario, Canada, are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chambers and son Albert, who are the parents and brother of Mrs. Dan Norland. During their two weeks stay they are the guests of the Norlands and last night they were taken to Knott's Berry farm for dinner and a tour of ghost town.

DON'T BE MISLED!

Here's Why You Should Vote

YES ON NO. 12

It lets the PEOPLE decide whether they shall have retail liquor establishments in their town or not.

And That's All It Does!

Where do its opponents get that talk about prohibition and law enforcement problems? Liquor interests are misrepresenting facts in their effort to keep control.

READ THE BILL

IT WON'T TAKE YOU 2 MINUTES

Sec. 22 1/2. (a) No license shall be issued by the State Board of Equalization, or by any other officer, employee, agent, or agency of the State, for the sale of intoxicating liquor at retail, whether in the original container, or for consumption on places where such sale or consumption is authorized to occur. No such license shall be issued, renewed, extended, transferred or reissued, and no such license shall be valid, unless and until such action first shall have been approved by ordinance or resolution passed by the governing body of the city, county, or city and county in which the licensed premises are, or are to be, located, or in which the licensed activity is to be carried on.

(b) In addition to all other powers conferred by this Constitution or laws enacted thereunder, the governing body of each city, county, and city and county of this State is hereby vested with plenary power to make and enforce ordinances and regulations which forbid or regulate the sale and barter of intoxicating liquor in all or any portions less than all, of the area within its boundaries.

(c) The qualified voters of each city, county, and city and county of this State are hereby vested with plenary power either by charter provision or by initiative ordinance to forbid or regulate the sale and barter of intoxicating liquor within the boundaries of the city, county, or city and county wherein they are qualified to vote.

(d) Intoxicating liquor is defined to be any liquor which contains one-half of 1 percentum or more of alcohol by volume, intended, designed or used for beverage purposes. Nothing in this section of the Constitution contained shall prevent the sale or use of intoxicating liquors for sacramental purposes, or for medicinal purposes by bona fide prescription in any licensed pharmacy.

(e) This section of the Constitution is self-executing, and supersedes all provisions of this Constitution in conflict herewith.

Garden Hints

PREVENTIVE GARDEN MAINTENANCE

By Glenn L. Black

A "stitch in time" taken in your landscape planning may save you many headaches—even save you many friends.

Human beings, to illustrate, will naturally walk across a vacant lot rather than follow the sidewalk around it. They will, that is, unless some barrier—fence, debris, weeds, bank—make it the more difficult course.

Anyone living on a corner lot in a built-up neighborhood knows the truth of this and has been subjected to scampering children, dogs playing follow the leader, and angle-cutting bicycles all mistreating his lawn. "Telling them off" ordinarily serves only to create hard feelings. A fence might solve the problem; but even it must be tight to stop the dogs.

But sometimes a fence is not desirable. Hedges, more ornamental, have proven effective, where there is room for them. They should be a compact type, preferably one producing thorns. Even such, though it will discourage humans, will scarcely slow the dogs running through it.

More Effective Barrier

To make the hedge barrier effective, stagger the shrubs so that a heavy-gauge woven wire fence may be installed on a line down the center. When the plants have grown they will mesh with the wire and form a dense, strong barrier against trespassers. And with the wire hidden, it will be ornamental.

If you prefer to avoid the barbed-branch hedge plants, select something like the hardy privet, and plant in the same manner providing for wire.

It may develop that your more recalcitrant trespassers refuse even to respect your wire cored barrier, insisting on clambering over it. Then you may use your hidden weapon—a few strands of barbed wire instead of, or along with, the woven fencing. There will be no more than one or two victims before the word gets around. Then you will be cured of your trespassing problems.

VETERAN'S GUIDE

Many California veterans interested in purchasing or refinancing their homes through the State Farm and Home Purchase Plan are under the assumption that if the purchase price of a home is in excess of $10,000, they will be barred from benefits of the Farm and Home program, Lawrence C. Stevens, State Director of Veterans Affairs has reported.

"Either these veterans have been misinformed or do not understand the laws and regulations governing the Farm and Home Purchase Plan," Stevens said. The state will advance up to $7,500 for purchase of a home, but the veteran may add funds of his own to the amount advanced by the state provided the total valuation does not exceed $10,000.

He pointed out that the department's appraisal valuation is the controlling feature of the program and his appraisal not the purchase price, must not exceed the $10,000. Stevens said, the word "cost" has been eliminated from the veterans Farm and Home Purchase Act, and added that many veterans now participating in the state plan have paid as much as $14,000 for their homes. The Farm and Home program offers many advantages to California veterans such as lower monthly payments, Home Protection Plan of life insurance (reduced this month from 70 cents per $1,000 of the unpaid balance to 50 cents per $1,000 per month) and savings on fire insurance. Interest under the state plan is currently 3 per cent.

Stevens urged that all veterans purchasing homes and interested in the state plan should consult their County Service Officer or Veteran's Service Center for further information or call at the nearest office of the State Department of Veterans Affairs.

EARL WARREN

Join a Great Team

United, we Americans are a great team. And now, we rejoice that the day of our new unity—the day for real team work—is dawning. With it will come constructive action to meet problems aggravated so sorely by dissension, doubt and distrust in the national administration

Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren are a great team, our kind of a team, one that gets things done.

Their records restore our faith in the future.

They are able men who will surround themselves with able men. They are courageous men, who will prove their courage by action. They are steadfast men, who place principle above preference. They are honest men, to whom honor is sacred. They are humble men, who recognize the dignity of their fellows.

What a great gain to our nation when our President, Vice-President and Congress are on the same team, working together in harmony for the welfare of all of us, for you and yours!

Great is our need for men like Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren, whose works proclaim their dedication to the American way. We have confidence in them because they have shown their confidence in us, the people. We have faith in them because they have demonstrated their faith in the system—the American system—that has provided us with more than any other people on earth.

We will elect Thomas E. Dewey President and Earl Warren Vice-President, secure in the knowledge that the freedoms—all of them—will be assured to us, our children and our children's children.

GARDEN HINTS

(By Glenn L. Black)
LANDSCAPING ART
BLOOM SCHEDULES

If you are a newcomer to the business of gardening and landscaping your home, one of the first things you should do is prepare a bloom schedule. Even should you know that gardening will be your problem in the future, this will be a wise move.

While making up a calendar of "what" and "when" to do things in the garden requires expert advice, this is not necessary in noting the time of year plants are in bloom. Generally speaking, garden procedures may be secured from reputable nurseries, newspaper garden pages, and reliable books on the subject. On the other hand, only you will know whether or not a flower's hue appeals to your tastes.

In addition to color tastes, you must note when these colors appear in the garden scene. It would be a good idea to keep a small notebook to jot down various flowers, their colors, when they appear and their length of bloom. Later, when you are making your flower garden or border, you will have a better idea of which should be used, and where.

Best To See The Blooms

The same method should apply to trees, vines and shrubs, of course. Do not rely entirely upon books which give such information as mentioned above. It is as difficult to select, sight unseen, the desired shade of flower color as it is to choose a dress or drapery material under such conditions, even with the help of color charts.

Some inveterate gardeners and naturalists make a game of knowing the blooming season of flowering plants. They may, for example, observe a group of trees in the distance, and by knowing the season of bloom, may ascertain what they are. Perhaps there is no great value in this particular knack, but it does lend interest to an already entertaining hobby.

The bloom schedule is valuable in planning a flower border or garden. A skillful rotation of the various blooming plants keeps the garden attractive, even during the mid-summer. This requires knowledge of which plants to use, and where. Indeed, you will find a bloom schedule very worth while.

Army Air Force Wants Former Service Men

Authorization has been received by Major J. S. Muir, in charge of recruiting in this area for the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force, to enlist in the U. S. Air Force, to service in Europe, a limited number of former service men.

Applicants must possess one of a number of MOS's (Military Occupational Specialties) which are needed. The grade in which enlisted will be determined by the length of time the MOS was held. In most cases applicants can be re-enlisted in the grade held at time of discharge.

Applicants with dependents must qualify for enlistment in the first three grades. Dependents will not be permitted to accompany accepted applicants.

Complete information can be obtained at the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force Recruiting Station, 202½ west Third street, Santa Ana.

Owners To Be Protected With "Brand" For Dogs

Good news for an estimated dog kingdom of between 40 and 50 million dogs, came out of the American Humane association's Convention in New Orleans, which ended its four day session with an unanimous resolution to adopt the "Identacode," painless method of tattooing dogs to protect the nation's dogs against being lost, stolen or strayed.

Over 150 delegates, representing 600 anti-cruelty societies throughout United States and Canada agreed that The National Dog Record Bureau's system of a positive and permanent identification based upon a single universal, easily-deciphered code, is the best assurance for dog owners to protect their pets.

The national society's backing came just one year and eight days after the first dog received his "Identacode" in California, where the tattoo method originated and has since spread to 42 states and Canada with interest expressed from England, Ireland, Mexico, Argentina, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

The Dog World's "Oscar" goes to Captain H. Graham Conar, popular sportsman, who popularized the "Identacode" process among civilian dog owners, after improving the method of tattooing used by the K-9 Command during the war.

Captain Conar, at the NDRB's headquarters in Westwood Village, received the heartfelt news with, "This means that thousands of the nation's stray dogs will be returned to their loving owners instead of being 'put to sleep' for lack of proper identification."

"LOOK PRETTY PLEASE" TO APPLY TO NATURE

The landscape of California will soon be posing for a new type of portrait when the Division of Fish and Game puts its recently acquired aerial camera to work.

Salmon spawning areas, game ranges, and streams and lakes will be photographed in the interests of providing more fish and game.

KERRY DRAKE

PROPOSITIONS

On the ballot November 2, A short summary of each Proposition with recommendations on how to vote by the editor and publisher of the Buena Park News, Paul Kroesen. All of the nineteen questions will be printed before the election.

No. 13. Senate Reapportionment (Initiative Const. Amend.)

This measure proposes to change the present (Federal) system of representation in the legislative branch of California State government and to reapportion the State Senate on a semi-population basis with a limitation of ten Senators from any one County.

No. 13—VOTE NO—One of the most important features of our federal system is the compromise between population and area which gives balance to representation. No. 13 proposed to remove this balance in California and turn the government over to population centers.

No. 14. Housing (Initiative Const. Amend.)

This proposal would put the State of California in the housing business and would authorize the issuance of $100,000,000 in bonds for the construction of housing facilities. The proposal approves an annual expenditure up to $25,000,000 by the State to be used to guarantee obligations of and furnish operating subsidies to public housing authorities and private nonprofit housing associations. Interest and redemption on the $100,000,000 would be paid from State tax revenue in case of default.

No. 14—VOTE NO—Generally conceded to be socialization of the building and construction industry in California on a mass scale. If you believe in private enterprise you cannot approve this one.

No. 15. Fish Nets (Initiative Statute)

This measure proposes to prohibit the use of purse nets and round haul nets for fishing in ocean and tide waters of the State south of a line extending due west from Point San Simeon in San Luis Obispo County to the Mexican border. The expressed purpose is to conserve the fish supply.

No. 15—No Recommendation—As was the case with No. 6, this proposal requires technical knowledge of the fishing industry and should never have been presented to the voter.

No. 16. Chiropractors (Initiative Statute)

This proposal would authorize the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners to approve or disapprove schools prescribe requirements therefor, and determine minimum requirements for chiropractic teachers. It would also require applicants for licenses to be graduates of approved schools and would increase the minimum course of schooling from 18 to 36 months. Other minor authorizations to the State Board concerning hiring of help, power of license suspension and change in the annual license fee are included.

This measure appears to be one designed to add to the requirements for schooling of those desiring to be Chiropractors.

No. 16—VOTE NO—Again a group in California attempt to set them selves up as a controlling influence in the chiropractic field.

No. 17. State Civil Service Exemptions (SCA 22)

This proposal would increase the number of exempt positions in the State Civil Service System by excluding from the system four additional groups:

- 1) Officers and employees employed less than six months per year by a district agricultural association,
- 2) Stewards, judges, and veterinarians of the California Horse Racing Board not employed full time,

- 3) Hide and Brand Inspectors employed by the Department of Agriculture, and,
- 4) Employees, not exceeding four in number, of the State Board of Equalization.

No. 17—VOTE NO—If we begin exempting state employees for one reason or another, more and more plums become available to politicians and less control can be maintained over employees by the state.

No. 18. State Payment of Tax Exemption Losses (SCA 14)

This measure provides that the State of California reimburse cities, counties, and districts for tax revenue lost by exemption from local taxes of properties of veterans and charitable institutions.

It is estimated that the first year's cost would be about $20,000,000. There is no assurance that any reimbursement would result in any tax reduction.

No. 18—VOTE YES—The inequality of exemption losses in various parts of the state are spread evenly on the tax burden of every taxpayer in the state rather than being borne by counties concerned. In some cases where the loss is great this might work a considerable hardship on a local group.

No. 19. Fish and Game Commission (ACA 27)

This measure provides that a member of the State Fish and Game Commission whose term has expired shall continue to serve until his successor is appointed and qualified.

It would make it possible for a member, whose term has expired, to continue to serve without a legal question being raised as to the propriety of his continuing. It brings the provisions regarding the Fish and Game Commission into line with others covering appointments to similar offices in State Service.

No. 19—VOTE YES—Merely brings the Fish and Game Commission into line with customary procedure in other departments.

POET'S CORNER
NO SUN TODAY?
The sun was hid today, you say. Why, I've had beams to spare. I've seen the sunshine's purest ray. In gold of baby's hair!

The sky has been, you say, so gray?
But I beheld a bit of blue
That made my hours all seem quite gay;
Baby's eyes are just that hue!

Your roses all will fade away?
I've had them all day, Dear;
The cheeks of babes make a sweet bouquet,
Their voices bring good cheer!

It's been a bitter, wintry day?
A storm may hold its charms;
The summer which none can delay
I find within two loving arms!

—Mrs. Virginia Quast

TRICK OR TREAT
The Goblins came to our house last night when all was still and each one had a paper bag that he hoped soon to fill with candy, nuts and cookies and all good things to eat from houses where they all would stop and then yell, "Trick or treat!" There were tall ones and short ones some fat and some were thin but all came knocking on our door and wanting to come in.

They were happy little Goblins and the kind you like to meet as they went along their merry way all yelling, "Trick or treat." Not a one forgot to thank us for the candy they received and all were having so much fun that as each one turned to leave,

I wished I was a child again to follow them down the street and knock on everybody's door and then yell, "Trick or treat!"
Lucille Quetsche

Increasing Our Water Supply
Do you want the fullest possible development of water supply for Orange County?
If you do, you will approve action of the Orange County Board of Supervisors, including, James A. Baker, in pushing as rapidly as possible the project for conserving an additional 8000 acre feet of water annually in Prado basin. This has been one of the major objectives of Supervisor Baker's administration, and its successful accomplishment is now in sight.
Prado dam was being completed as Supervisor Baker was first elected to the board of supervisors eight years ago. Then, within a few months, World War II froze all efforts to develop the water supply and save water that is now lost by evaporation and transpiration through vegetation.
But with the end of war in August, 1945, the supervisors resumed plans for Prado water conservation, and applied for a permit from the federal government to conduct exploratory work in the basin. As quickly as the permit was granted, after some months of delay by the government, the supervisors drove ahead with the project.
Last year approximately $150,000 was expended in laying a pipeline below the dam, as the first step in salvaging swamp and marsh water above the dam. The Board had planned an equal excavation above the dam, to drain water in the basin down to the spreading above the dam, to drain in the basin down to the spreading grounds below the dam.
There are preliminary problems an increase in Orange county's does not cover swamp and marsh water within the scope of permitted salvage operations, which are limited to storm and flood waters. So a new bill has been drafted and will be introduced in the state legislature at its next session. Then the supervisors will be ready to go with the second pipeline.
This means that a very important water supply is virtually at hand. That is important news to you and you and your rancher or city resident, no matter where you live in Orange County.

—Committee for the Re-election of
James A. Baker
Supervisor

Members of Labor Unions don't want dictators. VOTE NO! • Farmers don't want taxation without representation. VOTE NO! • Small businesses don't want to be strong-armed out of existence. VOTE NO! • Mothers don't want their children to lose their heritage of equal rights and civil liberties. VOTE NO!

As a red-blooded American who believes in our American form of government, vote NO on Proposition 13.
